CELEBRATING DECADES OF SERVICE & A BRIGHT FUTURE

Plumas Arts marks 35 years of service to the arts and our communities in 2017 with a year's worth of special events to celebrate the many accomplishments of this mighty little organization. To our regular schedule of gallery openings, Words & Music, Taste of Plumas, Almanor Art Show, and Mountain Harvest Beer Fest, we add even more special events. Our year of celebration kicks off on Saturday, February 25th at a Winter dance at the Quincy Vets Hall with SOUL POWER getting us up and moving to their Funk, Soul, and R&B complete with a 4-piece horn section. We continue with a concert by EILEN (pronounced like stealin') JEWELL at the Town Hall Theatre on March 30th and the 10th annual TASTE OF PLUMAS on April 22nd. More performances, movie specials and member events are shaping up.

∞ Plumas Arts Members receive discounted or free admission to these events. If you are not yet a member this would be a great year to become one. Membership is the most important of our funding sources as it puts the power of a dedicated citizenry behind our work. Learn more about membership by visiting our gallery, giving us a call (530) 283-3402 or checking out our website: plumasarts.org. Also to mark our anniversary, our website will get a remodel in the next few months arriving in the Spring with a fresh new look and enhanced usability.

∞ As previously announced, a generous bequest from Wells C. "Cap'n Carl" Clark paves the way for a future financial stability that we could once only have dreamed. The primary part of this donation comes in the form of a family home in Southern California that needs work to be made ready for sale. We are making repairs in January in hopes of a sale this Spring. Once funds are in our hands we will first invest them into the Town Hall Theatre, which was much loved by Cap'n Carl, who was an avid movie-goer. First up is a new roof over the lobby and office rentals. That is also one of many dreams we have long hoped to realize.

We offer heartfelt thanks for your support and high hopes for a Happy New Year!

Poetry Out Loud comes to Plumas County

Plumas Arts is pleased to be the official presenter in Plumas County of Poetry Out Loud (POL), the national poetry recitation competition. Through the support of the California Arts Council, a state agency, Plumas Arts will present POL workshops in each county high school, organize and produce both school-wide and county-level competitions that will culminate in a County Champion who will go to Sacramento to compete in the State Finals. The State Champion will represent California at the National Competition in Washington, D. C. Arts education is a primary focus of Plumas Arts, and this opportunity to bring poetry alive for our high school students is exciting.

Mark your calendars for the County Competition, happening on Sunday, February 5, at the Plumas Arts Gallery in Quincy, 1:30 to 3:00pm.
